New contract gives teachers 3.7% increase

A settlement has been reached between the Haliburton County Board of Education and secondary school teachers, more than a year after negotiations on a 1984-85 contract began.

The settlement was announced in a terse press release signed by board salary committee chairman Cheryl Murdoch and teacher representative Paul Morissette. It calls for an increase of 3.7 percent to be applied uniformly across the salary grid. In addition the board will now pay 85 percent of OHIP premiums, up from 75 percent in previous contracts.

Talks between the two sides broke down in November and a provincially appointed Fact Finder was called in to examine the negotiations. The Fact Finder's report was handed to both sides February 12. Because a settlement has been reached, the report will not be made public.

The salary increase is retroactive to September 1, 1984. The new contract expires at the end of August.

Negotiations on a 1985-86 contract will now get underway.

Dysart stays firm on Miskwabi plan

Dysart et al council is standing firm on its decision not to allow a proposed development on Lake Miskwabi to be water access only.

Council ruled last fall that Hasley Developments would have to provide road access to the 48 lot subdivision, but the company requested a change in the decision. In a letter to council, the company said it would cost a prohibitive $90,000 per mile to build approximately three miles of road to service all of the properties.

Clerk Wayne Wood said the cottagers association on Miskwabi is not in favour of a water access development, since it would increase boat traffic and a parking lot would have to be created among existing cottages to service the water access properties.

Reeve Murray Fearrey suggested a possible compromise would be to approve the subdivision in phases, allowing the road to be extended to subsequent lots with funds from the sale of lots in the first phase of the development. He also said a small number of water access lots might be acceptable if the majority of the subdivision was serviced by a road.

Council agree to discuss the matter further with Hasley representatives.

Hearing details kept under wraps

A preliminary hearing was held in Minden last Friday for Bernard Hebert, age 23, who was charged with two counts of first degree murder last November following the stabbing deaths of Joan Hall, age 28, and her daughter Nadia, age two, in Eagle Lake.

The presiding judge granted defense counsel's request for a ban on publication of information presented at the hearing.

Walking was unpleasant during the height of Monday's blizzard but driving was next to impossible as white-out conditions prevailed on most area roads. The storm dumped several inches of snow on the area, but high winds whipped it into drifts several feet deep in places. By Tuesday evening the snow had stopped and life in the county began to return to normal.

Severances concern Dysart

Council decides to ask housing ministry for advice

Dysart et al council has asked the provincial housing ministry for advice on how to deal with five severance applications on 400 acres of land on the Harburn Road. The applications are contained in offers to purchase the property from its present owners.

Dysart's planning board considered the severance applications but did not rule on them. Instead, the board passed the matter back to council, who discussed it in open session on Monday.

While the proposed severances may meet current Official Plan guidelines, council is concerned that the multiple applications on the property may be a means of circumventing the requirement for a plan of subdivision if more than four lots are created.

"If you've got more than four contiguous lots being created at the same time, I still think it's a plan of subdivision," reeve Murray Fearrey said during the discussions.

The purchasers will be required to seek an RU4 zoning of the land, which allows the development of "a small number of lots" that could be used for a retreat cabin, forestry, conservation, a seasonal dwelling house or a private club. However council felt the "small number" meant less than five, and that severances creating more than four contiguous lots should be dealt with as a plan of subdivision, no matter how many individuals or companies would own the resultant parcels.

Council asked planning supervisor Jody Ainsworth to discuss the matter with Ministry of Housing officials.

"If they say to put a hold on it, that this is a subdivision, then we'll deal with it as a subdivision," the reeve said.

"It's very difficult for the planning board to deal with something like that. It meets the guidelines but it's poor planning."

Council to back Pitch-In Dysart council has decided to get behind the annual Pitch-In campaign this year in a bid to make the event better known.

Pitch-In is a joint project of the provincial environment ministry and the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters. Its purpose is to promote the idea of cleaning up litter and keeping the outdoors clean.

Council decided that it will declare the week of May 6-12 as Pitch-In week in the municipality. Local schools and community groups will be approached to take part in the event, and it will be promoted among the general public as well.

Schools closed as storm hits area

Snow, high winds paralyze county

Cleanup operations were underway Tuesday in the wake of a late winter storm that brought strong winds and a heavy snowfall to much of southern and central Ontario.

Driving conditions were hazardous throughout Haliburton County as blowing snow drifted across roadways, causing numerous whiteouts.

Board of education officials ordered schools closed at about 2 p.m. on Monday so buses could take were pulled off the roads at about 5 p.m. because of near zero visibility. When conditions improved later in the evening plowing conditions resumed and most roads had been cleared by early Tuesday morning.

In Dysart, plow operators also had most roads open by Tuesday morning.

Many businesses closed during the height of the storm on Monday to give their employees a chance to get home. Banks also closed early, students home before conditions worsened. With little improvement by Tuesday morning, all school bus routes were cancelled and schools in Haliburton County remained closed.

No accidents reported

Despite the ferocity of the storm and the dangerous driving conditions, Minden OPP say no accidents or other unusual problems were reported.

Road crews were kept busy trying to keep roads passable, but it was an all but impossible task during the height of the storm. Haliburton County Roads department plows and the streets of Haliburton were all but deserted by late afternoon.

No storm related power interruptions were reported by Ontario Hydro's Minden office.

"We were very fortunate," a Hydro spokesman said Tuesday. The light snow did not bring tree limbs down, and predicted freezing rain did not occur.

With fairer weather expected to move into the area later Tuesday, the only problems remaining for most local residents were mountainous snowdrifts and blocked driveways.

Dysart fire chief resigns, cites pressures of the job

Dysart et al fire chief Howard Roberts tendered his resignation on Monday after 12 years as head of the local volunteer department.

Council accepted the chief's resignation with regret but noted that they could understand his personal reasons for wanting to step down.

The resignation will take effect April 15.

Roberts, who is also the municipality's roads superintendent, said he has enjoyed his term as chief but has grown weary of the responsibility.

"It wears you down over the years," he said. "You have to keep your finger on it at all times -- where everybody is and who's available. It's just a worry that never leaves you."

Roberts said he felt particularly pressured during the three week hunting season last fall, trying to ensure that enough men were available at all times to respond to a fire call.

"I told the men I'd never do that again," he said.

The position of chief is a voluntary one in Dysart. Like other members of the department, Roberts has received only $2 a week for his efforts.

"I was never in it for the money," he told council. "It was a wonderful experience."

Council considered a number of options on Monday, in light of the chief's resignation, but decided to examine the matter more fully before naming a replacement.

Clearing the air...

Minden council has decided to clear the air once and for all. From now on, councillors and delegations will not be allowed to smoke at the council table.

Councillors Dave Stevens and Gary Kenney, who along with clerk Bev Millar are the only non-smokers among council and staff present at most meetings, proposed the ban in the form of a resolution late in the proceedings last Thursday night.

When acting reeve (and smoker) Ed Pergolas put the matter to a vote, councillor Pat Burk (also a smoker) supported it, noting that it would be "good discipline" to have smoking banned from the table.

The resolution will take effect at council's next meeting, March 14.

Minden council now joins the board of education and county council as the only elected bodies in Haliburton County which do not permit smoking while business is being conducted.

Police News

Snowmobiles stolen

The Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report the following activity for the period of February 25, 1985 to March 3, 1985. During this period the staff investigated five motor vehicle collisions and 30 general occurrences. There were four thefts reported, three break-ins, and two liquor violations resulting in charges.

Theft

A theft occurred overnight Saturday at the Prentice-Berry Ski-doo dealership south of Minden. Stolen from the yard was a 1980 Ski-doo Blizzard model 5500, valued at $1600.

Motor Vehicle Collision

A single vehicle collision occurred on March 2, at about 8:00 p.m. on the Peterson Road, Minden Township. The driver, Kevin R. Forbes, age 18 of Minden, received minor injuries and was treated at the Minden Hospital. The 1979 Ford pick-up he was driving sustained about $2500 damage when it struck a pole on the left side of the road.

Theft

Sometime between February 10 and March 2, two 1983 Honda ATC's, model 185, were stolen from a garage at Salerno Lake. The machines are owned by Wilhelm Harfmann of Whitby and valued at $3500.

OPP to use lights at all times now

All marked and unmarked Ontario Provincial Police vehicles will operate with headlights turned on 24 hours a day from now on.

OPP Commissioner Archie Ferguson has ordered the move in the interests of safety and increased visibility of patrolling cruisers.

"We believe it will afford our people that extra measure of protection," said Ferguson. "It will make our vehicles more visible, and we hope people will see the police cruiser and use extra caution."

Studies by organizations interested in highway safety have shown that vehicles using headlights during daylight hours have less chance of being involved in accidents. Those that were involved in accidents suffered less severe damage and injuries.

Police say one reason is that an oncoming vehicle with headlights on appears to be closer. Headlights also can be seen more easily in rear-view mirrors on heavily travelled highways or at longer distances on two-lane highways where cars are passing.

Bus and truck companies have been using headlights in the daytime for a number of years. The Haliburton County Board of Education recently adopted a requirement that all school buses use headlights while transporting students.

Ferguson said he believes that a more visible cruiser also will prevent traffic violations by other highway users.

County Engineer.

Snowplows fought a losing battle against blowing and drifting snow on Monday as the worst blizzard of the season struck much of Ontario. Many plows were ordered off the roads late Monday afternoon, but they resumed work later that night when winds moderated and white-out conditions eased. Most roads were passable by Tuesday morning.

Minden briefs...

At a meeting last Thursday evening, Anson, Hindon and Minden council considered the following matters:

By-law 85-14, a by-law to prescribe a tariff of fees for the processing of applications made in respect of planning matters; By-law 85-15, a by-law to amend By-law 84-38, to establish the rate of increase of remuneration for certain employees; and By-law 85-16, a by-law to authorize the execution of an agreement with the Township of Snowdon regarding the provision of fire protection services were given first reading, and were later given second and third readings and passed.

By-law 85-17 will be amended and presented to council at the next meeting for consideration.

A discussion of the provisions contained in the proposed by-law to regulate the destruction of trees was held. The clerk was requested to confirm with MNR staff that the wording of the by-law would be suitable for prosecutions through the court system.

R.C. Schell was authorized to attend the Ontario Association of Property Standards Officers' course on June 2-5, 1985 and the terms of Policy No. 4 shall apply.

Minutes of the February 21, 1985 meeting of the Planning Advisory Committee were adopted save and except Paragraph two (Development proposal, Lot 30, Con. 6, Minden) which will be deferred to the next meeting of council, and save and except Paragraph four on Page three since council deems the proposed use to fall within the requirements of the existing GCM zone based on the information presented that the proposed operation is to be a retail home improvement outlet fully contained within structures, according to Building Code regulations (subject to receipt of written application).

Mr. and Mrs. John Pentney Jr. were present to discuss with the members of council their

MNR co-operation sought on work permits for loggers

Dysart council will ask the local Ministry of Natural Resources office to enforce regulations which state that loggers must obtain no cost work permits before undertaking cutting operations on private land. And at the same time, council will seek more strict enforcement of its tree cutting by-law.

The decision to ask for help from the MNR was made following discussions on Monday between council and forestry official Peter Hynard.

Council sought a meeting with Hynard following reports that the MNR was marking trees for cutting within the 50 foot setback required under the Dysart by-law. Hynard said Minden MNR workers had not marked any trees on properties along the south side of Kennis Lake where setbacks were not respected. He said the Ministry is not required to comply with the Dysart by-law if the marking falls into the realm of sound forest management. But he noted that the ministry could comply with Dysart's setback provision if council wished.

On the matter of work permits for loggers, Hynard suggested that council ask the MNR to enforce its regulation under the Forest Fire Act rather than try to include a permit provision in the tree cutting by-law.

Hynard said the provincial act requires loggers to obtain work permits, but it is seldom enforced, particularly in the winter months when fire danger is minimal.

In reply to a question from reeve Murray Fearrey, Hynard said the provincial Trees Act does not say anything about the legality of including a work permit provision in a tree cutting by-law. He said such a requirement recently has been included in a Huron County by-law, but loggers in that area are resisting it.

Hynard advised council to concentrate its efforts on taking action against known offences to the tree cutting by-law.

Hynard said he would be willing to spend a couple of days working with Dysart's enforcement officer to show him how to collect data on cutting operations and the percentage of undersized trees that have been cut at a particular site. Careful documentation is essential if prosecution under the by-law is to stand up in court, the MNR official said.

Hynard described Dysart as "very progressive" in trying to promote good forest management, and added that the MNR will "live up to the spirit of the by-law" with respect to setbacks in future.

Entrances regulated

Proposed Minden by-law delayed for comment

Minden council will ask for comment from its road committee before voting on a by-law to regulate the installation of culverts and driveways on municipal road allowances to service private property.

The proposed by-law, numbered 85-17, was given first reading last Thursday, but will be examined by the road committee prior to second and third readings.

The by-law contains a number of clauses intended to minimize problems created by improper culvert installations. Among the main points:

- Anyone planning to create a new entrance to a property from a municipal road must make application to the township.
- The road superintendent is to be informed of the proposed entrance, and will make recommendations on where it should be placed and how it should be constructed.
- Only contractors approved by the road superintendent will be permitted to carry out the work. Individual property owners would not be allowed to do the work on their own.

- The owner or contractor would be required to notify the road superintendent when the work is completed, and an inspection would then be carried out. Any deficiencies in the work would have to be corrected at the owner's expense.
- All applications will remain on file in the municipal office.

Municipal law enforcement officer Dick Schell suggested the by-law should include a penalty for non compliance.

After some discussion of the matter, council agreed to add a clause stating that anyone who installs an entrance in contravention of the by-law will be responsible for the costs of rectifying it or face a fine under the Municipal Act.

The by-law is expected to be introduced again once council's road committee has had an opportunity to examine it in detail.

The Canadian Lumbermen's Association presented its Wood Award posthumously to Grenville Martin recently in recognition of his stature in the industry. Shown at the presentation ceremony in Montreal are Charles Lindsay, vice president of G.W. Martin Lumber Limited, Kimberly Martin, daughter of the late entrepreneur, and Jim Hickey of the CLA.

Award honours Grenville Martin

Leading Canadian lumberman, Grenville Martin of Harcourt recently was posthumously awarded the Canadian Lumbermen's Association's highest honour - the CLA Wood Award. The presentation was made February 14 during the organization's annual convention in Montreal.

Martin was president of G.W. Martin Lumber Ltd. of Harcourt. He was killed last October, along with two other company executives, in the crash of a twin engined aircraft near Toronto. It is the first time in the 25 year history of the award that it has been given posthumously.

Martin's daughter Kimberley, manager of Bracebridge Lumber Ltd., a division of G.W. Martin Wood Products Ltd., accepted the award from James M. Hickey, second vice president of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association.

Hickey described the late Grenville Martin as "an entrepreneur in the classic mold". He outlined Martin's rise within the industry and international markets and his untimely death at age 48.

Charles Lindsay, vice president of G.W. Martin Lumber Ltd., expressed appreciation to the CLA on behalf of the family and company.

Minden sets higher fees for planning

Ratepayers in Anson, Hindon and Minden face higher fees for applications on planning matters. At a meeting last Thursday, council gave its approval to a by-law setting out charges for the processing by municipal staff of planning-related documents.

Applications for severances will now cost $150, with an additional charge of $75 for each parcel created beyond two.

Minor variance applications also will cost $150 from now on.

Anyone requiring a certificate of occupancy for permanent residency in a seasonal zone will be charged $50 for the document from now on.

Applications for Official Plan and zoning amendments will require a deposit of $350, of which $100 will be non refundable in the event that the application is withdrawn.

Plans of subdivision will cost $500 under the new by-law, with $200 of that amount non refundable.

All additional planning, legal, copying, postage and advertising costs also will be assessed against the applicant.

If costs exceed the required deposit, the applicant will be responsible for reimbursing the township.

Lumber outlet to get new management

A Bracebridge company will take over management responsibilities for Gull River Building Supplies south of Minden.

Owner Earl Palmer announced Monday that effective March 18, the lumber outlet will be managed by Northern Planing Mills Co. Ltd.

The facility will be renamed Gull River Homecare.

Northern Planing Mills chief executive officer George Reid said J. Malcolm Boyes, a lifelong resident of Vankoughnet and vice president of the Bracebridge company, will become manager of the Gull River outlet.

Northern Planing Mills operates two other retail lumber businesses in Bracebridge and Mactier.

The Gull River outlet employees four people year round and an additional three people on a seasonal basis.

Haliburton's main street was a desolate place on Monday afternoon during the height of a late winter blizzard that dumped several inches of snow on the area. Drivers risked near zero visibility, and school buses were sent on their routes early in the afternoon. Schools remained closed Tuesday.

A draft policy governing the fees and costs for the closure and sale of concession road allowances was discussed by council. The clerk was requested to revise this policy and present it for consideration at the next regular meeting.

Toni Carr and Paul Allore were appointed to the Minden Recreation Committee for 1985.

Mention was made of the following items of correspondence:

Blanchard Electric's proposal for servicing municipal streetlights was deferred to the next meeting pending receipt of further information.

Pressures

Municipal councillors who take their job seriously are seldom without worry, but it is on matters of planning that they really earn their money. Many responsibilities within municipal jurisdiction concern a large number of people in one way or another, but nothing has greater or more lasting impact on the character of a community than the way in which it grows.

In the case of Dysart et al, with its nine townships and dozens of lakes, planning is the single most important responsibility of council, and the one which ultimately subjects councillors to the most intense pressure and the most severe criticism. And there is no sign that planning matters are getting any easier to deal with, despite improved legislation and greater expertise among municipal staff, councillors and the local planning board.

Years ago, before there was a provincial planning act and municipalities could do pretty much what they liked, councillors faced an onslaught of slick developers who knew how to influence decisions in their favour. A three piece suit, a briefcase full of documents and a smooth tongue would go a long way in those days. Today councillors are both wiser and more wary, but that doesn't mean they have an easier time of it. In fact the problems have become more complex as the regulations have become more detailed and specific.

To their credit, Dysart council has always shown leadership on planning matters. The municipality was the first to have an official plan, while to this day there are councils in Haliburton County which operate with outdated and relatively lax planning regulations. Dysart has a planning co ordinator while other municipalities burden their clerks with those additional responsibilities.

Despite these steps by Dysart to ensure controlled and well planned development, tough decisions still have to be made almost every month. Regulations are printed in black and white, but the realities of proposed development are often gray.

So far, Dysart council has done remarkably well in balancing the pressure to divide up and sell the countryside against the responsibility to protect the community from long term problems. But council will need the support and encouragement of every ratepayer if it is to continue to carry out that role as well in the future as it has in the past.

Butting out

Three cheers to Minden council, and councillor Pat Burk in particular, for voting in favour of a resolution to ban smoking at the council table. It is a decision that will certainly make a lot of people breathe easier, including perhaps, some of the councillors themselves.

Minden council now joins a rather elite group among local public bodies. Previously, only the board of education and county council prohibited smoking while a meeting is in session.

As for councillor Burk, she is a smoker, and no doubt will find it hard not to reach for a cigarette when discussions become intense around the council table. Deputy reeve Ed Pergolas, who was acting reeve on the night the smoking resolution was passed, did not cast a vote, but that is in itself a sign of approbation for the spirit of the proposal. And since he too is a smoker, it must not have been an easy decision to make.

Council should do its best to live up to the resolution for a couple of months, and if it can sustain its resolve, it should consider extending the rule to include visitors as well. That way no one will be able to subject anyone else to the risks and discomforts of second hand smoke, at least within Minden council's chambers.

Reader wants meeting this summer

To The Editor:

Your editorial "Up to Us" (February 20) was good and offered excellent constructive thinking on the annual Rotary Club's Winter Carnival.

I hesitate to write my opinion - thoughts - or suggestions to your idea of input from a public meeting since several years I did the same thing to the "city fathers of Dysart et al" and was publicly told off. I was an "outsider and offer any suggestions to those "fathers" where you pay your taxes."

But, as Custer once said, "What Indians!"

Good idea to suggest a public meeting. The more input - the more ideas. However hold one of the larger meetings at an unusual time for a winter activity - in the summer when thousands of your public - outsiders or commuters are in the Highlands. Sure not many will be able to actively take part in the Carnival but since they will have added input to the event they may drive to Haliburton next February to take a "look" see.

And with active promotion of some type of public meeting - let's say in the loft of the arena some summer Sunday afternoon, you'll gain the attention of lots of "outsiders" of a winter activity in the summer!

You may not obtain any extra help from the outsiders for the dozens of meetings the Rotary Club hold prior to the February event but who knows? Some may venture north-eastward, or wherever.

I think back to the early 70's when the writer chauffeured Susan Brower (Society for Crippled Children) back and forth to Haliburton, to organize the first Snowarama for Timmy. Susan didn't know the road to Haliburton, and though it was a long drive back and forth, look what's taken off with the Snowarama since.

As I said at the beginning -- "What Indians!"

An attitude altering act in Athens

By JOHN JAMES

Recently I was on a one week tour including Athens and Israel. It was my first trip overseas and one whose memories will be with me always. For example, only about two hours after our arrival in Athens I found myself momentarily stunned as I gazed at the temple of Poseidon on Cape Sounion. The temple was built in about 444 B.C. and stands at the edge of a steep cliff jutting out into the Mediterranean. It was the first time in my life that I had anything that old or that historic. A few days later I was to sail on the Sea of Galilee where Jesus had sailed with his disciples. Then, in Jerusalem, I would walk the road known as the Via Dolorosa, the way of sorrows, the way Christ walked with the cross. In Bethlehem I would sit in the grotto, a dark, musty cave where St. Jerome had spent thirty-nine years translating the Bible and labouring on his writings in the fourth century. One could easily be immersed in rocks and stones, in memories and history.

In this year of 1985 the people from Participac keep telling us that now is the time to get into shape and by doing so we will be keeping fit. On television they keep reminding us of another great moment in sport when someone has accomplished the feat of walking around the block, possibly put on skates for the first time in several years or taken the family out cross country skiing. When they arrive back home following this bit of exercise they are all excited knowing full well that this is a start of an exercise program that they hope they will be able to continue on a regular basis. Most of us know deep down that we are out of shape and that there is only one way to get feeling better and keep in good health and that is to start on some kind of regular exercise program. There is no doubt about it, people are starting to get up and leave the television for fitness programs. Just look around you and it is quite noticeable that many people are out jogging, others are walking more and more, cross country skiing has become very popular, more people are skating than ever before, recreation league hockey has really caught on, and the game of squash has become an instant hit with young and old alike. In the summertime tennis seems to be the game that is very popular and other ways to keep fit are by playing baseball, swimming, hiking or you name it. Yes, fitness is now the name of the game and if it doesn't do anything else it will help to keep a person's weight under control. As Howie Meeker would say, "Walk a block a day, it's a step in the right direction."

Just recently Sylvia Holland purchased the business known as The Village Shoppe in Haliburton from its former owner, Julie Hartin. Sylvia has made many changes to the interior of the building, adding new merchandise, and is planning a Grand Opening of four big days, this Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 6, 7, 8 and 9. To mark the occasion The Village Shoppe will feature an Under New Management Sale with special features and 50% off all winter stock. Drop in and see Sylvia and Eva and join them with a cup of coffee and donuts.

Eccentric Wardrobe are now open for business in their temporary quarters behind Cordell Interiors. In speaking with owner Pam Brohm she told me that this store gives her more room to display her stock and that exceptional savings are to be had on many items in the store. The store hours at the present time are 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily.

As I was going through some of my old files the other day I happened to notice a copy of the Haliburton County News which was dated Thursday, March 30, 1950. The editor at that time, and also publisher, was Dr. L.H. Carroll. Some of the news items on the front page included Citizens Urged to Co-operate with Police, Mr. and Mrs. William Baker Observe Anniversary, President Robert Bishop of the Haliburton County Tourist Association reported that the Haliburton County booth at the Toronto Sportsmen's Show was a great success. Anna English, who was a new bride at the time, was feted by friends at a miscellaneous shower. On the sports scene at that time the Haliburton Huskies, who were playing in the Senior O.R.H.A. against the Bresslau Redshirts according to an advertisement on page 5, were playing in a championship game at the Lindsay arena. A special train from Haliburton was scheduled to transport the fans to the game at reduced rates. Children's Spring Ensembles were on display at Brohm and Pollard's.

The Haliburton Midgets, the Haliburton Bantam All Stars and the Haliburton Atoms are hot on the playoff trail. The three teams are doing very well and the management has high hopes that all three will reach the top. Now is the time for hockey fans to turn out and support these teams. The local rink should start to fill up as the interest starts to build for these teams.

We are sorry to report that Don Banks of Banks General Store, who broke his ankle on a step one day last week, had to be taken to a Peterborough hospital. He is able to be home again now but he says that the ankle is still very sore. We hope to see him around again very soon.

What a difference a few hours can make. Take last Friday for instance when the day started out just like one of those lovely days in the spring. The sun was shining, people were moving around, and for a while it looked as though the sun would shine all day. It wasn't to be. Later on in the afternoon it started to cloud over and that wet snow started coming down, turning it into a very sloppy day. From here on in we can look forward to those March winds and those April showers.

We are glad to report that Glen Robertson, who was seriously injured recently when he fell from a ladder and landed on the pavement in Haliburton, is now out of intensive care at the Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto.

Some of the side roads and highways in the county have started to heave and potholes abound wherever you look. Some motorists tell me that some roads are worse than others with the worst yet to come.

In my view...

Reality impinges on ruined splendor

Yet, throughout the week the present kept impinging upon my concentration with the past. People punctured my preoccupation with Pericles, Pilate and Peter, called Simon. Actions of others altered my attitudes in Athens and Israel.

For example, on the last day of the trip, we flew from Tel Aviv to Athens. Enroute I read Graham Greene's superb novel 'The Power and the Glory'. The story is set in the 1930's in one of the southern states of Mexico. During an anti-clerical purge, the last priest, like a hunted hare is on the run from the revolutionaries. He is a priest who has fathered a child and is an alcoholic, a 'whiskey priest', but who yet is more compassionate to the poor than his pursuers who want to liberate them from the church. In one scene he vows to his young daughter, whom he will never see again: 'I love you. I am your father and I love you. Try to understand that.' The novel continues 'That was the difference, he had always known between his faith and theirs, the political leaders of the people who cared only for things like the state, the republic: this child was more important than a whole continent.'

A few hours after reading those words I stood at Aeropagus, sometimes called Mars Hill, in Athens, where the apostle Paul had first preached about Christ to the Athenians. Our guide explained that the Greek word for the Aeropagus had meant 'the talking place'. This was the same rock from which Socrates had taught his pupils. Many people gathered here to talk over the latest ideas. But by Paul's day the meaning of the word was changing. The Romans had overrun Greece. Gradually the area became used for business endeavours. The language then shifted to mean 'the market place'.

Towering over this 'talking place' and this 'market place' is the Acropolis, the high hill on which stood the temples to the Greek Gods. Many postcards of Athens today feature this marvellous structure. Yet it is never mentioned in the Scriptures. One of the pilgrims I journeyed with raised this point. Paul apparently was not interested in the historical sites of the past. He was interested in the people of the present. He went to the 'talking place', to the 'market place', where the people interacted.

A few minutes later our guide took us up to the Acropolis. The climb was steep. Millions of human feet trodding over twenty-five centuries had worn the marble rocks until they were slippery even when dry. As we were nearing the top, a four year old girl was descending with her parents. I saw her slip and fall on the path. I heard the crash and saw a small plastic toy souvenir shatter into many pieces. She was devastated, heartbroken. For a moment I forgot that I was standing in the midst of historical grandeur. So did everyone else. All of the other people in her immediate area stopped looking at the past glory and focused on the present need. The expressions of many faces in the crowd indicated that their hearts reached out to one sad little girl. Graham Greene's words came tumbling back into my mind, "This child was more important than a whole continent".

That for me became an attitude altering act in Athens. It reinforced the words that Jesus spoke centuries before. "Even the hairs of your head are numbered... You are worth more than many sparrows."

In my view, the little girl with the broken heart was more important than the ancient temples with the broken columns.

Next week, part 2, "A Jolt in Jerusalem".

Cuts will hit property taxpayers

It appears that Larry Grossman could very well burden the property taxpayer of Ontario.

The Toronto Globe and Mail indicated in a recent story that provincial transfer payments to municipalities, hospitals, schools and social service agencies will increase by only 3.0 to 3.5 per cent in 1985-86. This would be the lowest level of increase in more than a decade.

I have little doubt that the story is correct, for such marginal increases would continue his tradition of passing costs for essential services on to local taxpayers. Total transfers to municipalities and local agencies have been below the rate of inflation for the past three years. With inflation forecast to run about 3.7 per cent next year, there is no respite in sight for local taxpayers. In the case of schools, the Executive Director of the Ontario Public School Trustees Association reports that every single input cost has increased as well above three per cent.

Two years ago, the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing told municipalities to cut services because no substantial funds would be forthcoming from the province. He lectured that the municipalities had "programs they can very eliminate without reducing the important safety and protection services to the people of their community", but then refused to give any examples of unessential services. In his Budget last year, Larry Grossman had the gall to lecture municipalities on restraint while claiming "we have been generous" in providing a five per cent transfer increase. Neither Minister mentioned that their own government's burgeoning payments to consultants, the ever growing Suncor waste, or the $1 billion in idle landbanks.

Even with global transfers set at five per cent last year, many individual allocations were far lower as a result of the formula used to calculate grants. A number of municipalities received transfer increases of only 2.5 per cent. In fact, had it not been for heritage language and french instruction grant provisions, the City of Toronto Board of Education would have been required to pay money to the province, based on the convoluted funding formula. If this year's levels are set at 3.0 per cent or so, those at the lowest end of the scale may receive virtually no increase -- and some may have to send a cheque to Queen's Park!

All of this is of particular concern given the inequitable nature of property taxes. Ontario should be looking to shift the burden more on to the progressive income tax system, not moving in the opposite direction.

Report from Parliament

By Bill Scott M.P.

Your ideas on tourism are sought

As the Member of Parliament for Victoria-Haliburton, I have a keen awareness of the importance of tourism to the economy of our country. Few residents of our area are not in some way touched by this $18 billion a year industry, the second largest industry in Canada. For many years, I have worked actively on our Party's Caucus Committee on Tourism. I was quite pleased when a separate ministry was created to deal with Canadian tourism policy.

To seek comments and suggestions on ways to improve Canada's tourism industry, the Hon. Tom McMillan, Minister of State for Tourism produced a consultative paper "Tourism Tomorrow". It was released on Monday, February 18. This publication raises five major questions, and challenges all of us to answer them:

1. What must we do to achieve a higher level of professionalism and to compete more effectively with the leading tourist nations?
2. Can we agree to promote selected attractions year by year, to focus on our strongest travel-generators -- large and small, urban and rural, regardless of region -- in order to appeal to larger numbers of tourists? Will this approach not increase the total market from which each community can draw visitors?
3. Can we find ways to co-ordinate advertising efforts of various sponsors -- federal, provincial, territorial, municipal, private sector -- in order to project consistent, compatible messages about Canada?
4. Are we prepared to raise the standards of performance in the tourism industry? And are we prepared to provide the training and upgrading needed to meet those higher standards?
5. Mindful of our obligation to reduce the national deficit, how can we promote and expand our tourism industry without high levels of government spending?

ment spending?

These are the kind of questions that must be answered if we are to reverse the decline in Canada's share of world travel receipts that has taken place over the past ten to twelve years. Only by establishing a comprehensive plan can we effectively deal with our $2.2 billion a year deficit in world travel receipts.

If you have any concrete ideas and suggestions that you feel could help in developing a tourism strategy, please send them to: The Hon. Tom McMillan, Minister of State for Tourism, C.D. Howe Building, 235 Queen Street, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0H6, attention: Tourism Tomorrow.

Question

Why keep the Senate?

By CATHERINE DENHOLM

The Senate, like the House of Lords in England, was to be made up of people with great wisdom and experience. They would guide the elected members of the government to brilliant legislation. They would guard and uphold the fine traditions of the realm.

In fact the Senate has always been a place of reward for the party faithful regardless of wisdom or experience. It is a group of aged people with very little power. The members are expected to debate the bills passed in the commons and they are expected to eventually pass those bills. There

Midgets trail by two games in best of five playoff series

Haliburton's OMHA Midgets will have to come up with three exceptional games in a row to keep their playoff hopes alive, following two straight losses in their best of five quarter final series against Lakefield.

In the series opener on Friday in Lakefield, Haliburton was short on players, with only two complete lines available, and the disadvantage showed as the local boys went down to a hard-fought 8-5 defeat.

Ian Cooper opened the scoring at 7:10 of the first period, unassisted. The lead lasted until 7:38 of the second period when Lakefield came back to tie the score.

The teams stayed even in the early minutes of the third period as Haliburton dug in to try for the win.

Lakefield moved ahead 2-1 just 30 seconds into the third period, but at 2:07, Tom McLeod scored from Tran LaRue to tie the game. A little over two minutes later, McLeod scored again, this time unassisted and Haliburton was out in front.

Lakefield kept the pressure on, however, and with 7:32 left, the home team tied the score. It remained that way for the rest of regulation time, forcing an overtime period to decide a winner.

The battle continued unabated in period four but the advantage eventually shifted to Lakefield as Haliburton's two lines were unable to maintain the pace.

Lakefield moved in front with 5:25 left in overtime, but McLeod potted his third of the night only 15 seconds later to reestablish the deadlock.

The home team then netted three in a row to take control, while Haliburton responded with only one, from Jeff Popple.

In the final seconds Lakefield scored again to cap an 8-5 win.

Game two was played Sunday night in Haliburton, and this time Lakefield had less trouble staying in front even though the local boys had a full compliment of players.

The visitors netted one in the first period and two in the second before Mike Blake put Haliburton on the board with help from McLeod.

Lakefield made it 4-1 early in the third period, before Dave McKay got Haliburton's second with help from Corey McKnight and Glen Hall.

The visitors added another with a little over eight minutes remaining, and they kept the 5-2 advantage intact to take a two game lead in the series.

Bantams begin quarter final Haliburton's OMHA Bantams took on a previously unknown Wasaga Beach team Saturday in the start of the quarter finals. The local team was not intimidated by a fairly aggressive opponent and combined good offensive and defensive ability to defeat Wasaga 9-5. Scoring for Haliburton were Nicholls unassisted, Cooper from Nicholls and Francis, Hunter from Cooper, Perrin un-sisted, Cooper from Nicholls, Perrin Unassisted, Nicholls from Francis and Byers, Warburton from Russell, and Russell from Warburton and Rydman.

Gavin McKnight played strongly in the net for Haliburton.

On Sunday the team travelled to Wasaga and despite carrying most of the play, found themselves down by two goals at the end of the first period.

However at 12:22 of the second Drew Mitchell fired home a picture goal on a pass from Scott Russell and the Huskies never looked back. Colin Hunter, on an unassisted effort, tied the game at 10:32 of the second. Francis connected at 10:13 of the third on a pass from Cooper to put Haliburton ahead.

Erin Nicholls scored the

Come-from-behind win was the team's best

On Friday night the Haliburton Atoms continued their winning ways by defeating Cannington by the score of 13-2.

Scoring for Haliburton were Derek Wilson with five goals and two assists, Jeff Black with two goals and three assists, Greg Stamp with a goal and three assists, Matthew Williams with two goals, Greg Brohman with one goal and one assist, Chris Greenfield and Mike Billings with one goal each and Chad Bain with an assist.

On Sunday the boys travelled to Beaverton and played one of their best games of the year. Beaverton scored the only goal of the first period at the seven minute mark. The Haliburton boys didn't get on the score board until half way through the second on a nice passing play with Jeff Black and Greg Stamp drawing assists on Derek Wilson's goal.

The tie was short lived, however, as Beaverton scored three more times before the period ended, making it Beaverton 4 Haliburton 1 at the end of two. Then in the third, Haliburton scored three in a row to tie the score once again. Derek Wilson added two in a row with Jason Casey and Greg Stamp drawing assists. Jeff Black then scored with the help of Reid Elstone and Derek Wilson.

Beaverton, determined to win, scored at the six minute mark to give them the lead once again.

With 59 seconds left Greg Stamp connected, Wilson and Black drawing the assists to tie it up again. Only four seconds were left on the clock when Greg Stamp scored the winner with Derek Wilson and Matthew Williams drawing the assists, making the final score Haliburton 6, Beaverton 5.

The local boys are now awaiting the winner of the Pickering Village, Newcastle series.

Local rink wins top prize in one day ladies bonspiel

The second two-game winner was Sandra Oakley of Haliburton and her team of Lynda Brohm, Ann Hopkins, and Marlene Bennett.

Third two-game winner was the team of Linda Lancaster from Bobcaygeon.

Curling

This was not a good week for fans of Wilberforce/Harcourt area hockey players, whether it be at the local arena or curling rink. Martin Lumber and Wilberforce both took it on the chin by a score of 3-2 at the hands of Bancroft and the Whitney boys respectively in Tri-County play on Saturday night while at the curling club, the Wilberforce Golden Ponders were clobbered 12-2 by Berning Construction and knocked out of contention for the Industrial League title. The game was a penalty filled affair with Haliburton receiving 34 minutes and Wasaga 24 minutes. Haliburton will have a chance to wrap up the series on Tuesday, March 5 in Wasaga. If a fourth game is necessary it will be played this Friday at Haliburton. Game time will be 8:30 p.m.

Team supporters say they look forward to seeing as many fans as possible at home games as the boys work their way towards the All Ontario Championships.

Plans set for PeeWee soccer team in Minden again

Sonya Holliday-Rhodes attended a district youth soccer meeting in Bracebridge on Sunday, March 3. There are five confirmed and three tentative Bantam teams, and seven definite PeeWee teams (one of which is the Minden team). Registration for the Minden players will be announced in the local newspapers towards the end of March. A PeeWee team has been registered with the Ontario Soccer Association for the Minden area. The Minden PeeWees is open to boys and girls 14 years of age and under. Youngsters under 11 years old however, are not encouraged to register with the team as the age-range would be too wide. Organizers say young people from Haliburton and other areas of the county are invited and are welcome to join the Minden-based club.

Northern Lights

'Freebees'

By VIRGINIA MUENZEL

The world is full of "Come and get me if you can catch me-s". The other day, I opened my box of shredded wheat, and noticed on the package it said, "1 in 5 win cash! Every 5th pack contains insert that may be worth $1, $10, $1000!" Of course, having reached the age of cynicism, I ignored the come on, and prepared to eat my cereal.

But the box was there on the table. It teased and beckoned to me...Like most of us, I could sure use $1000 right now. And, before I had reached the bottom of my bowl, I was reaching down into the bottom of the box. At least, the shredded wheat biscuits are wrapped, so I didn't have to worry about being unsanitary.

Suffice it to say, when I found the insert, and scratched off the magic spot, it informed me that it was sorry, and I should try again. I managed to restrain myself, however, from rushing right out to buy another box of shredded wheat.

I remember when the kids were small, I hated taking them shopping with me. Strolling down the cereal aisle with one kid in the cart, one hanging on, and the oldest one box-grabbing, was a real costly venture. Rita wanted the "sugar-pops" with the free animal cards inside. (They're educational.) Eddie wanted the "sugar-frosted flakes" with the free Walt Disney 3" x 6" posters. And Dave just grabbed anything I was unfortunate enough to park too close to.

In early days, (before I got to be a mean mother), I would relent, only to discover that once they had reached into the box to rescue their prize, chances were they didn't like the cereal that came with it. (That's how I got to be a mean mother). Consequently, I ended up eating all that marvelous sugar-coated garbage. (That's how I got to be a fat, mean mother).

It used to make me mad, too. I would be much happier, and so would all mothers, if they'd leave out all that eye-catching junk, and lower the prices. If you stop to think of it, those big cereal conglomerates have most likely spent thousands of dollars on intensive studies to discover which colours are the most attractive to children, and what gimmicks are best guaranteed to cause them to have tantrums in the middle of the grocery store if mummy won't buy a box of high-priced, sugar soaked, unnutritious, unpalatable glop.

They must be getting desperate, though, if they're giving away money in the shredded wheat. There's real food in them there boxes. And no salt or sugar added. Before you know it, they'll be raffling off cars in the corn flakes.

That's my two cents worth for the week. I gotta go now. David and his father are fighting over whose turn it is to get the ZOOM B'LOON out of the shreds.

Home Support

By DONNA BAILEY

Haliburton County Home Support Services offers information and educational programs. A swim program, seasonally arranged, is held at Locarno-on-the-Lake. Information about the foot clinics is available through our office. We distribute free of charge Vials of Life which are supplied to us through the Canadian Red Cross Society. We suggest that there be two in every household - one for placement in the fridge and one for the glove compartment of your car. These provide vital medical information in the case of a medical emergency and should be updated constantly. We also distribute free of charge Cold Air Masks which are supplied to us through the Victoria Haliburton Lung Association.

Our Drop-In Centre is an extension of the Haliburton County Home Support Services. It is a beautifully decorated centre where you can rest, await an appointment or join in various ongoing activities. Please watch for more details in the "Drop-In Centre News" column and under the "Coming Events" section of this newspaper. We hope that you will accept this as our invitation to you to come and join in the many activities planned.

For more information concerning the above or any of the base Home Support Services please contact our office at 457-2941 any weekday between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. or 'drop into' our office: It is located in the Drag River Municipal Building opposite Emmerson Lumber.

Senior League

By BERT HARRISON

Dear readers, Saturday the 23rd was my 91st birthday. Everything started out in the usual way, until we sat down, our lunch to partake. We were served along with our lunch, made by our cook, Michael O'Mara, a delicious birthday cake. Then about 7:00 Saturday night my family came, with another birthday cake and other good things to eat. It really was a treat. I thank our daughter, June, for planning all this. I not only received some lovely presents, but I got hugged and kissed. At this time I would like to say a big thank you to all who sent me birthday cards, best wishes and to government officials who sent me lovely congratulations plaques. I just want to say, "god bless you all for remembering me on my 91st birthday."

We had no service in the chapel on Sunday. Rev. Burgess said it was so foggy, he couldn't see out of his driveway.

The flu is here again and many residents are sick. As I write this letter, if we get many more sunny days like this we'll all be feeling better.

Down at fun and fitness the 25th of February, Amelia Good won the game we played.

Tuesday morning Julie Kennedy, Rev. John Phillips' assistant, bless her heart, came and conducted a very interesting service in the chapel. Rev. John came, but took no part. Tuesday night to fulfill our entertainment it was Fred Ballard's turn. Fred plays fine organ music, and doesn't charge a dime.

A word about our laundry cleaners. They take out dirty clothes, wash them, dry them and fold them up so nicely, then put them on our beds.

Thursday afternoon the Women's Association came down from Eagle Lake. They brought and served a lunch, with a tasty birthday cake for those who had birthdays in the month of February. We thank them for coming.

To call the bingo numbers, all along came Steve Crowe. They said he did a really good job, and really wasn't slow. Some of the players' luck was really great. Millie Wood said she won five bingo's, another lady won eight.

A very sacred day was held in the auditorium this first of March day. here we would like to convey to family and relatives of Ethel Boice, who has just passed away.

Kinmount Korner

By MILLIE MOSS

To all interested parents: if you wish to have your Northern schools stay open, sit down now and get a letter of concern off to the following people and let them know of your views: Mrs. Leone Skipworth, chairman of the Board of Education, Box 420, Lindsay, K9V 4S3, Mrs. Susan Dinwoodie, c/o Board of Education, Lindsay, or Mr. Frank Miller, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ontario.

Bernice and Art Owens, Sandy and Wayne Ridley placed second in the Legion darts tournament in Fenelon Falls on February 9.

Results of Galway Wednesday card party were: ladies' high, Ida Young; ladies' low, Flo Drinkle; men's high, Tom Yates; men's low, Paul Franzen; most lone hands, Muriel Nightingale, Ralph Schroeder and Bill Welsh.

Kinmount and District Horticultural Society held a special meeting at the home of past president Mary Martin on Wednesday evening, February 27. Our new president for at least the next two years is Bob Hollobon, first vice president is Guy Scott, second vice president/treasurer is Ken Hyams, directors are: Joan Hyams, Marg Hockley, Betty Lonsdale, Ida Young, Marg Viney, Jean Hollobon and Millie Moss. We are currently looking for new members and you may contact any of the above re this matter. It was voted at the meeting that Charlie Molyneux would be an honorary lifetime member.

There are now some 40 boys and girls who have joined the Navy League Sea Cadets Corps. Uniforms are free, many good times to be had and good things to be learned. Meetings will be held each Tuesday evening at the Coboconk Legion hall 7:15 p.m. For further information call Sid Thomas at 454-3724, Bonnie at 454-3722 or Bill Moss at 454-8171.

Welcome home Barb Fountain.

I was sorry to hear that little Sue Ann Crego has been ill.

I'm told Lyle Anderson and Bob Wilson have both been back into hospital. Bonnie Walker is suffering from a kidney stone and is hoping against surgery. To all of you, get well soon.

Congratulations to Marion and Boyd Austin upon the birth of a little granddaughter born to their daughter Dianne and her husband in Toronto.

Thank you for the kind remarks re the column, etc., on the 'phone, Ruth Janke. Some day I just may write a book but as I said before, people get nervous when I talk about that subject.

I enjoyed very much having guests last Sunday which included Ida and Clyde Parry, Donna Dymont, all of Lindsay, and Bill Moss of Norland.

A number of the Fenelon Falls public school children enjoyed a trip to Burnt River last week to see the show 'Beatrix Potter'.

My hubby Bill suffered a fall on the slippery floor of the garage in Lindsay where he'd taken the car for undercoating recently. Be careful in these places folks. The floors seem to be covered in the glucky oil all the time. Bill is alright but was quite stiff for a few days.

A cousin of mine who is presently at her winter home in Florida, 'phoned me from there last week to inform me of the very sudden death of a dear relative, Jack Soper, who dropped dead in his kitchen around 6:30 p.m. in Harbour Grace, Newfoundland. Jack was a great person in every way. Over six feet tall, well built, never too busy to help somebody else who was down. He was the best salmon cook you ever met. To you, Jen, all our family and to Jack's many, many friends, my deepest sympathy. I know you'll be reading this Jen and if all goes well I'll see you in July or August.

To date, there's been no word as to helpers/drivers who would be interested in getting the Meals on Wheels program started once again in the Coboconk area. If you'd be willing to help in any way, please contact either Valerie Shepherd at 454-3744 or myself at 488-2353. The Meals on Wheels in Kinmount would be more than pleased to help you get started.

I was asked for a light dessert recipe. How about this one, which we were served last time I was down east. - 1 sponge cake cut into cubes. Set a jelly and when it's thickened somewhat add 1/2 package Dream Whip. Whip the jelly and Dream Whip and then add a tin of fruit (fruit cocktail is nice). Turn out when set and cover with remaining Dream Whip (I'm sure the cake cubes should be added in there somewhere). It was delicious.

Well folks, stay well and happy, read the Echo, call me at 488-2353, not, I repeat, not, 488-2399 and remember: a failure is a man who has blundered and is not able to cash in on the experience.

Trinity Full Gospel church hosted the annual World Day of Prayer and the other churches joined in worship there to pray for the needs of our troubled world. A good attendance took part in the worship.

Ten local ladies (and younger gals) spent the weekend of the 16th and 17th of February at Wig-A-Mog Inn at Haliburton and had an enjoyable time skiing, hiking and just enjoying nature at its winter best.

Ethel Farrow underwent surgery for amputation of her leg in Ross Memorial Hospital on Friday, March 1. And in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, Martha Bartley was having open heart surgery on March 1.

Bob Callan went by ambulance back to Sunnybrook Hospital, Toronto, on March 1.

March came in like a lamb - very sunny and mild in early part of day, though cloudy and rain after the noon hour. It was real spring weather.

Gordon and Joyce Bartley had open house to celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary on February 24 (though the actual date was February 28). The house was busy all day with well wishers dropping in to join in the joyous occasion.

I dropped in to the licence bureau in Fenelon on Wednesday and if your licence is about to expire, remember the office will be closed from, I believe, March 6 to 16, so you'd better phone ahead to make sure it is open as the Marshalls are going to be away on vacation.

Millie Routley is doing much better and is out of intensive care, after some frightening attacks. I'm sure she'd appreciate a card to cheer her up.

Frances Grant is home again from hospital, and Gary Lytle also is home again.

I haven't seen any maple trees tapped yet, but I'm sure some syrup makers must have begun the annual spring job of making maple syrup. The cold nights and sunny days are ideal for syrup.

The sudden thaw on Tuesday caused a lot of flooding on many of the roads and many basements. Be sure and keep your little ones away from dangerous ditches.

Harold and Margaret Rutter of Scarborough were weekend visitors of his mother, Ruth and brother.

Elly Hannivan has been off work at the post office, nursing a sprained ankle.

"There is an old saying that a fool and his money are soon parted. That statement can't be limited to so-called fools anymore because with the high cost of everything it happens to everyone."

The rains came, and the fog and the drizzle. Are we still going to get more snow? Oh, yes, it's possible. March can be a very blustery month. What we really want is a month of good hot sunlight to take the snow down gradually and not a lot of rain to cause flooding. So we put our order in and will just sit back and wait and see what comes our way.

The Senior Club had an afternoon of Bingo last week. It's a fun day and some of use were especially lucky. The next get together will be on March 6, when there will be a pot luck luncheon with finger food on the menu. Lunch will be followed by a VCR movie so let's have a good turnout for a good time.

We would like to wish a happy birthday to Ted Morris who celebrates on March 1 and to Kathy Keown in St. Catharines who will be 11 on March 2.

The ice on the lakes hasn't been very good this winter. Apparently due to the large amount of snow on it, freezing didn't take place and there has been a lot of slush, making it dangerous for snow machines to travel. So if you have any idea of going on the ice be sure to inquire at a local store or garage to see if you might go through or get stuck in the slush. Once those heavy machines get stuck it is very difficult to get them mobile again.

I hope that someone is feeding the blue jays as they don't come to my feeding station. Lots of greedy evening grosbeaks, chickadees and juncos come, but no jays. Maybe they don't like my brand of seeds. I have been told that the little birds that cluster on the road, nibbling salt or sand, I am not sure which, are Pine Siskins. They do resemble the pictures in the bird book. They are nervy little souls and defy a driver to run over them, waiting until the last minute to fly away, but they always make it.

I don't get into politics usually but I have been requested to remind the rate payers of Muskoka that the education taxes in this area are high and that any added expenses, such as a raise in teachers' salaries are bound to make a jump in taxes again. Steve Pincard is the trustee for this area and would appreciate some input from the rate payers as to how they feel about the current teachers' strike. He needs some backing for whatever effort he makes regarding the situation.

We welcome Len and Bea Seedhouse back home after spending the previous part of the winter in Florida. We wish the best to Bea in having her medical problem resolved in the very near future.

was an unusual display of action in the red chamber recently when they delayed a finance bill. It will not happen again. This group of people who have been appointed to their rich environment over the past years serve no useful purpose in the governing of our country. The senate should be abolished.

There are some senators who have a knowledge of government business which is valuable to elected representatives. If the Senate were closed down they would all receive adequate pensions which means they could still be just as helpful on their own time.

The Senate is retained because it is an old English tradition and some such traditions in connection with government are of value and should be retained. The Queen riding in her gold coach to open Parliament in England reminds everyone of how things used to be - it is an historical drama. The slumbering Senate does not remind us of anything important.

It is time we changed the out-moded parts of this democracy. In these times of enormous public debt we should not cling to a costly anachronism.

Wilberforce News

By WINNIE SCHOFIELD

Mrs. Agnes Lee has died in the Haliburton Hospital. Mrs. Lee, who was 95 in February, was a well known resident of Tory Hill. As Agnes Dack she married David Lee in 1919 and the couple operated a farm in the Hotspur area. At one time they ran the Post Office. They had two sons. When they retired to Tory Hill their son Norman took over the farm. His brother Gordon moved to Lindsay. Mrs. Lee was a resident of Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home for a few years.

I heard some interesting news from George Earle who is in touch with David and Anne Watson. The many friends of the Watsons will remember the favourable impression they made on the community during their stay in Wilberforce a few years ago when Dave served as United Church Minister. The family are moving from Elmira to Brantford. David Watson has been honoured as Citizen of the Year for the town of Elmira. A celebration banquet was held with the presentation of a plaque to mark the occasion. Attending this important event was David's grandmother. The ceremony was taking place on her birthday so a special cake was prepared to mark the lady's 99th birthday. All good wishes go with Dave and his family as they move into their new home.

Weather conditions were good for the annual Tory Hill snowmobile rally. The group taking part look forward to this day of getting together for fun on the trails. Most of the party took off at around 1 p.m. and others followed at intervals. The trail, well-snowed, led from Tory Hill toward Day's Lake and Leaf Lake then along the Wildcat Road. Coming back much later the riders were served a delicious spaghetti supper at the recreation hall in Tory Hill.

A good crowd attended the dance in the evening. Across the road at this time the arena was packed with fans cheering for their teams taking part in the Tri-County Hockey games, results of which were: Maynooth 4 and Marins 2. Last game saw Whitney 3 and Wilberforce 2.

Last call for Campbell's Soup labels. The Girl Guides hope to have all the soup labels bundled and on their way to Puerto Rico by the middle of March. If you are saving labels please give them to a Girl Guide or drop them off at Agnew's store in the near future. The response for labels has been encouraging. Some have come in the mail from as far away as Toronto. Thank you for your support.

Hubert McIntaggart of Fenelon Falls died at the Lindsay hospital on March 1. Mr. McIntaggart lived for some years in Wilberforce. He was in his 68th year.

Norland Natter

By KELLY GRAHAM

Well, winter is virtually gone and with the melting of the snow comes the gladdening of hearts and the arrival of spring.

As winter winds up so does the hockey season. However, as a season highlight the Sobko IGA PeeWees and the Fenelon Lions Bantams wish to travel to a hockey tournament in Buffalo, New York. Several of our local boys are on the teams but of course the price will be a problem. To help with the registration fees and travelling costs there will be a hockey dance at the Norland community hall. The dance is to be held on March 16. Entertainment will be provided by a disc jockey. For more information and tickets please contact Valerie Greer, Elaine Bryant, or Fern Eason.

Speaking of hockey the winner of the hockey pool last week was Ethel Vanier. Congratulations Ethel.

Here are the public speaking winners from Norland Public School: In the Junior Division - Kelly Vanier, Dawn Gostlin, Toni Greer, backup. Senior Division - Melaine Vanier, Trisha Potter, Paula Janke, backup. The winners from Cobocok Public School were: Jason Dove, Colleen Liscombe (senior), and Shelley Foster, Michelle McDonald (junior). The winners will all go to the Legion Hall in Cobocok to compete against students from Kirkfield and Burnt River. That competition is open to the public and will be held on March 5.

These are the results from the senior citizens' weekly euchre and bridge games. Euchre, ladies - Lulu Brentnall, first; Viola Dickson, second; lone hands, Lulu Brentnall; consolation, Hilda Chynoweth. Men's - Stan Stewart, first; Ziggy Kwasnik, second; lone hands, Tony Kenneth; consolation, Dorothy Adams. Bridge, first - Noreen Puterbaugh; second - Alec Gagne; consolation - Lil Smith.

The Norland and Cobocok Public Schools Kindergarten registration will be held on March 27, not March 21 as earlier reported. Norland's will be held in the morning and Cobocok's in the afternoon.

On Wednesday, February 27 there was a meeting held to stop the closing of the Northern Schools and the building of a central school. About 75 people were in attendance and committees were formed for the cause.

it's neat to Pitch-In!

West Guilford News

By E. COOPER

Darren Sisson is home from duty with the Canadian Armed Forces in Cypress. He had a three week break.

Friends and relatives of Ethel Boice will be sorry to learn of her death on Saturday, March 2. Another former West Guilford resident also passed away recently. Alice Barnum (nee Horsley) was raised on the Irish Line and attended school here. Alice had had many serious illnesses of late years. Like Ethel, she will be sorely missed by her family.

The Snow Shuffle on Saturday was a complete success this year, not only financially, but socially as well. More people attended than ever before and prizes went to Ted Duncan and his granddaughter, Skye Austen for oldest and youngest snowmobilers. Most sportsmanlike went to Lisa Ogel. The supper was superb, by all accounts, and the dance most enjoyable as well.

The prospective programme to raise money for Red Cross is coming along nicely. More talent is being discovered, offered (co-erced?) and made available. March 15 is the date. Come and enjoy singing, dances by the Scottish Country dancers and music in general performed by people you know.

It isn't a long concert and there will be time to have a visit over coffee and refreshments afterwards.

County Information Centre

By BAMBI GILDER

The Haliburton County Information Centre is alive and well and very pleased to say that we have been able to help so many citizens in the county for the past 2½ years in finding solutions to problems, answers to questions and assisting people with various government programs and applications. All inquiries that we receive are confidential and our service is free of charge. To provide information, we maintain extensive resource files of local services and government agencies, departments and their functions along with a wide variety of pamphlets.

The Centre has succeeded mainly through the co-operation of volunteers who have so generously donated their time and effort in order to carry on a much needed service. This year we are hoping to expand on our services and can only do this through the aid of more volunteers. If you feel you would like to be part of our Centre, why not drop in and see how we operate and what our volunteers program is all about? After becoming more familiar with our Centre and what we have to offer, I'm sure that you will agree that it is something that is valuable to our community and rewarding in knowing that we can help many people.

We are located in the Drag River Municipal Building (across from Emmerson Lumber) in Haliburton and are open weekdays, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Seen a snow flea lately?

Imagine a group of animals more bizarre than anything from Star Wars, some with great, globe shaped heads stuck to the apex of triangular bodies, others resembling, hairy, legged sausages with bulbous antennae. Still others, with 12 eyes and long, grasping feelers, recall prehistoric monsters. All have built-in self-catapults, capable of 'firing' the beasts up to 65 times their length.

They're real! More than that, they have a series of behavioural, physical and life cycle adaptations more fantastic than science fiction.

Snow fleas are a primitive, wingless group of insects 2-3 mm. (1/10") long. They are totally harmless - in fact, beneficial - and live all around us - in meadows, forests, valleys, mountain tops, arctic and antarctic - everywhere. They are fantastically abundant - up to 45,000/square meter in forests. Yet, few of us even know that they exist.

Late winter provides an ideal time to discover this group. Although abundant and more active during the summer, they're difficult to distinguish from the soil, bark and leaves on which they roam. During late winter many of these beasts ascend to the snow's surface, where, at first glance, they blend with plant debris. But have a closer look. You'll often find hopping or gyrating specks under the edges of trees or atop tiny melt pools.

Snow fleas - also known as springtails - appear in the fossil record as far back as 360 million years. In the ensuing period, they have evolved into about 2,000 species; somewhat over 300 occur in North America.

They all show a unique adaptation. An oar-like, forked projection extends beneath their rears. Springtails are capable of pulling the outer end of this forked oar forward, and latching it against their abdomen with a special organ. Springtails also secrete a remarkable chemical at the base of the oar. When compressed by the cocking action, this chemical develops huge internal pressure.

When the snow flea wishes to move quickly - to escape, or cover large distances - it merely releases the latch, launching itself 13 cm or more. That's like you "firing" yourself the length of a football field.

Other adaptations equip springtails for life in the snow; something which is almost inconceivable for cold-blooded animals. Most insects can't cope with the cold, and grind to a halt, hibernating or dying outright.

Snow fleas have developed a natural antifreeze. When the temperature plummets, these insects produce glycerol, a sugar alcohol, and secrete it into their body fluids. The presence of glycerol can lower springtails' freezing temperature to as low as -22°C. Snow fleas stop eating for the winter - they can't endure ice in their stomachs.

And, springtails head for the right place at the right time. During the depths of winter, they stay below the snow's blanket. In late winter, when the sun reaches a steeper, stronger, angle, they come to the surface, and bask in the sun. Their dark bodies - like black objects in the snow - convert the sun's radiation into heat. On cloudy or windy days, they dig down a little, blanketing themselves with snow.

Being atop the snow seems to provide an ideal place for snow fleas to court, and to breed early. On the really warm, melt days, springtails congregate around little melt pools. The hairs that cover their bodies hold them atop the water, much the way a feather floats. If you look at a tiny pool, in a footprint or ski trail, you'll often see a churning mass of springtails.

If you look more closely still, you'll see that it's an elaborate courting dance by many separate pairs. The male deposits a microscopic packet of sperm on the pool's surface, then takes hold of the female using grasping antennae. And, he dances her over the packet, which she puts into her body. The female then begins laying eggs, which float about until the pond eventually dries up, leaving eggs stuck to all manner of debris. The microscopic hatchlings, come spring, will feed voraciously, growing quickly to adult size.

By JEANNE SEARS

Mrs. L. Cox, president of the Minden Women's Institute, read a verse to open the meeting February 20 at the Library/Cultural Centre. After the usual proceedings, Mrs. Kernochan reported sending in the fees and that the special collection for CatScan in January was $27.10. The card report was given by Mrs. W. Moore with 15 cards sent. Collection for this fund and pennies for friendship were taken up and guests were introduced. Mrs. L. Cox, Mrs. C. Lacey and Mrs. D. Cox are going to the Leaders Training Day March 9 at Omeme.

Mrs. D. Berry, convenor of family and consumer affairs, read from the CatScan leaflet and had T-shirts and buttons for sale. These buttons were nearly all sold. The group then saw a film shown by Mrs. Lacey, entitled "Hold the Catsup". This showed different foods and their preparation by various ethnic groups. The "Institute Song" was received thanks to Mrs. Moore and all joined in this as well as happy birthday to Mrs. Alec Taylor. Some 18 members were present and four guests, but one, Mrs. J. Marsh, later joined the branch.

The next meeting will be held March 20 at 2 p.m. with all ladies welcome.

Auctioneer Verla Wilson then sold the articles turned in on the Roll Call and over $60 was raised for CatScan fund. All then enjoyed a cup of tea and snack and social half hour.

IN MEMORIAM

BAGSHAW - In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Thomas Charles, who passed away February 26, 1950.
May the winds of love blow softly
On a quiet peaceful spot
Where the one we love lies sleeping
And will never be forgot.
No length of time can dim the past
To many memories hold it fast
Today, tomorrow, our whole lives through.
Sadly missed but never forgotten, wife Vera, son Tommy, daughter-in-law Marilyn, grandchildren Lisa, Tommy and Kimberley. 32-P-6

The clerk will obtain comparative prices for the required survey work and report to council accordingly.

- Ontario Hydro quotation on the installation of streetlights on McKnight Drive. D. Stevens, streetlighting committee, recommended that this item be included in the 1985 budget.

- Murray and Barbara Walker request to use part Lot 18 and 20, Concession 2, Township of Minden, for residential trailers to house workers for Ingoldsby bridge construction project.

- Dalton MacDonald, Warden, County of Haliburton, requesting a suggested representative for the Executive Committee for the LEAD program. Gary Kenney will report to council at the next regular meeting with his recommendations.

- OPP Minden Detachment, concurring with recommendations made by municipal staff concerning the proposed installation of a stop sign on the Bobcaygeon Road at the Sunnybrook Bridge. R.C. Schell reported that a representative from the firm Mechanical Advertising Ltd. which supplies traffic signs, inspected this location and confirmed that there was insufficient sight distance to permit the installation of a convex mirror.

The roads department will sign the Crooked House Road Bridge immediately with a 9-TON LIMIT sign, and the Municipal Engineer was authorized to commence a monitoring of the settling of this structure pending remedial measures to this bridge.

Fraser Rogers was retained as Municipal Solicitor for 1985 and a retainer fee of $2,000 will be paid pursuant to the terms outlined in Mr. Rogers' letter of proposal dated February 14, 1985.

Council had no objections to the temporary installation of residential trailers on part of Lot 20, Concession 2, or part of Lot 18, Concession 2, in the Township of Minden, owned by Barbara Walker, for use by the workers involved in the reconstruction of the Ingoldsby bridge by the County of Haliburton. Such use will be limited to the duration of the construction project.

By-law 85-16, a by-law to authorize the execution of an agreement with the Township of Snowdon regarding the provision of fire protection services, was passed.

Policy No. 37, passed by council on the 9th day of January, 1980, was rescinded.

Councillor Pat Burk discussed the Museum Committee's general plans for the future expansion and fencing of the property. It was agreed that these matters should be presented to the Co-ordinating Committee at its next meeting.

It was resolved that no smoking be allowed in the council chambers during regular meetings of council.

Plans set for Minden soccer team

Although the team is registered as a competitive team and will be competing in the league under the Ontario Soccer Association, Muskoka District, the club has primarily been formed for youths to enjoy the game of soccer. Youths need no previous experience of the game as full coaching will be provided. Experienced players also are welcome.

Joe Shapiera of Jadek Sports has confirmed his sponsorship of the team. The recreation committee is being advised of the team and will be requested to donate two new balls. Rotary and Kinsmen clubs will be approached for a small financial donation. Rhodes Medical Centre has agreed to make a donation of $100.

The first meeting for interested adults is scheduled for Monday, March 18 at the municipal office in Minden at 7:30 p.m., when a committee will be formed. Anyone interested in helping the Minden Youth Soccer is invited to attend.

Sonya Holliday-Rhodes was elected as district convener for Youth Soccer at the meeting on Sunday.

five in the first end, one in the second, three more in the third and that was all she wrote as the hockey playing Ponders never did get untracked, conceding defeat after the seventh end. Berning Construction will now play the winner of the other semi-final, between Gooderham Barr's General and Highland Grove Hogan's Harvesters, to determine the league champion.

Squeals of delight could be heard far and wide at the Tuesday night Ladies League play when Sandy Smith won her first game of the season. The match against Judy Hogan's rink was all tied up until Sandy Smith executed a brilliant take out with her final rock and stayed to count a big five for an eventual 10-5 decision. On the other ice, Roberta Walsh increased her first place lead to 9½ points with a close 7-5 victory over Jo-Ann Olszewski.

Standings as of March 2 are: Roberta Walsh, 73½ points; Judy Hogan, 64½ points; Jo-Ann Olszewski, 60½ points; Sandy Smith, 34½ points. Fred Berning is flying high in the Mixed League as well as the Industrial. His rink of wife, Brenda and Al and Edith Langmead had already wrapped up first place in the "A" Division about, until this week, had been unable to solve the mystery of Roger Hogan's mastery over them. In three previous meetings, the Berning rink suffered their only defeats of the season however, this week, they removed the Hogan's Heroes' hex with a convincing 11-4 victory.

In other Mixed action, Mark Smith downed Dave Nicholson 9-5, Ches Gadway edged Roberta Walsh 8-7, Dan Denault squeaked by Bill Smith 5-4, Don Fevreau outlasted Gary Lanigan 9-5, Clem Peters blasted the Dennis Fiddler rink 13-4 and Chuck Lindsay's rink, skipped by Jo-Ann Olszewski, overpowered Jack Watson 8-3. Standings as of March 2 are:

"A" Division: Fred Berning, 204½ points; Roger Hogan, 178½ points; Don Fevreau, 176½ points; Gary Lanigan, 159½ points.

"B" Division: Chuck Lindsay, 191½ points; Dennis Fiddler, 181½ points; Clem Peters, 164½ points; Jack Watson, 159½ points; Bill Smith, 139½ points.

"C" Division: Ches Gadway, 161½ points; Dave Nicholson, 155 points; Roberta Walsh, 145½ points; Dan Denault, 142½ points; Mark Smith, 127½ points.

Guild News

We are happy to let you know that our first newsletter of the year is now completed and will be in the mail to our members this week. Watch for it and the ensuing news it brings.

Beginning Thursday you will be able to see a new show in the Gallery called "Grandmother's Flower Garden" and "Wooden Quilts". This exhibition will give us a glimpse of early Canadian history through the featured paintings of Eleanor Johnson, quilts by the Halton Quilters Guild and the wooden quilts of Alan Skeoch.

Quilts are the thing that tie each of these artists and craftsmen together and quilts are the things that we hope will bring you to the Gallery.

On Saturday, March 9 we will have special guest Alan Skeoch, creator of the wooden quilts, at the Gallery. Alan is a notable Canadian historian, who teaches history in Toronto and translates his interests in that area in many creative forms. He has written several books, acquired a very large collection of antique agricultural machinery as well as creating the wooden pictorials of Canadian landscapes and historical scenes which can be seen in the Waiting Room Gallery.

Listeners of CBC may recognize his name as a regular on the David Shatsky Noon Hour Programme each Friday as the expert agricultural historian. We hope to have a good turnout on Saturday at 1 p.m. to meet Alan Skeoch and hear him talk about his work and interests.

Eleanor Johnson, watercolourist, will be with us on Saturday, March 30 for a meet the artist afternoon.

If you've never been to the Rails' End Gallery we welcome you to visit us this month to see this display of traditional art and craft.
